Topic: New Home Construction & Construction Checklist

Issue: The Rules & Regulations Commission has reviewed the New Home Construction & Construction Checklist section. Their recommendation is this section be removed from the Rules & Regulations. Any members with building inquiries are directed to the ACL Building & Environmental Code & Building Department. There is no reason for this information be duplicated in the Rules & Regulations. Memo #: 2020-55 (2)

Topic: Apple Canyon Lake Building and Environmental Code

Issue & Analysis: Several typographical issues have been found in the Apple Canyon Lake Building and Environmental Code. The issues are minor and do not affect the substance or enforcement of the Code.

113 Allowable Grass Height: The Jo Daviess Property Maintenance Code referenced by the ACL Code does not include a maximum permissible grass and weed growth height for lots with Structures. General usage at ACL sets a 10" maximum height of mowable vegetation such as grasses and weeds.

117.1 Patio setback compliance: ACL Code Part 110.4 specifically describes setback requirements. The reference to 110.4 is not included in the text but is applicable. Also, the word "be" was left out.

123.6 Water Facility: This item is a word for word duplication of Code 110.8. So, item 123.6 may be completely deleted without loss of regulatory effect.

123 There is a lower case "s" in the section title that should be capitalized. Change PIERs to PIERS

126.2 A. This item regulates the presence of the silt fence. The word "final" is needed to set the time for silt fence removal.

126.2 B. Bare soil should be covered with mulch if cold weather or rains prevent seeding. The alternatives were not included.

126. C. There is a typographical error: "Immediatelya". As currently worded, the timing for seeding the disturbed ground does not reflect good practice.

126. F. There is a typographical error: "The sections are not numbered 1, 2, 3.

The AECC has reviewed these corrections and unanimously recommend their adoption.

To have the ACLPOA Board of Directors approve the following changes: As approved by the AECC July 11, 2020 Agenda Item 5.8 and August 1, 2020 Agenda Item 5.1, , to permit the revision of the published ACL Building and Environmental Code, change, add or strike out the highlighted text to:

113 EXTERIOR MAINTENANCE (IPMC301)

- A. Property Owners shall maintain their property in accordance with International Property Maintenance Code (Jo Daviess County Illinois adopted as amended) - Chapter 3. For lots with Structures, mowable plant growth shall not exceed 10".

117.1 PATIOS

A patio is an exterior, land-based floor system, constructed of concrete, stone or brick pavers. Patios smaller than 64 square feet are exempt from permitting, unless the horizontal surface is more than 24 inches above grade at any point. Patios must comply with the building setbacks (see 110.3 BUILDING LINES and 110.4 LOCATION ON LOT) and must be approved in writing by the AECC prior to construction. Driveways are excluded from patios.

To permit the deletion of 123.6 Water Facilities which duplicates 110.8 Water Facilities

~~123.6 WATER FACILITY~~

~~No Water Facility may be built or maintained on any Lot without the prior written approval of the AECC. In its discretion the AECC may approve, prohibit or limit the construction or maintenance or location of any Water Facility and the use thereof. Each Owner shall be responsible for keeping any Water Facility located on his or her Lot in good condition and repair. Any Water Facility that is not maintained in good condition and repair shall be removed from The Properties by the Owner, at the Owner's sole expense, following written notice from the AECC.~~

123 PIERS, DECKS, BOAT LIFTS, SHORELINE CONSTRUCTION (L-I00)

- 126.2 A The silt fence must be maintained until the property has been final seeded and restored to prevent erosion and encroachment on adjoining properties.
- 126.2 B. All excavated soil must be rough graded and covered with a suitable mulch of hay or straw or reseeded with perennial rye grass.
- 126.2 C. ~~Immediately~~ Immediately after the backfilling of the foundation and septic system, ~~seeding and~~ a suitable mulch of hay or straw is to be spread over the exposed soil area to aid in erosion control before seed germination.
- 126.2 F. The contractor has ninety (90) days from the time of groundbreaking to restore the final ground cover. If the final ground cover cannot be completed within the ninety (90) day period, a temporary ground cover must be applied in accordance with items one, two and three A, B and C above.

Recognizing that The Secondary Governing Documents can be changed at any time, these changes go into effect immediately upon approval by the ACLPOA Board of Directors. These changes will be posted on the ACLPOA Governing Documentation web page as they are made, will be available upon request at the Association office and will be added to the following year's printed publication.

Recommendation: To approve the housekeeping changes to the ACL Building & Environmental Code.

Memorandum

To: ACL Board

From: Conservation Commission

Memo #: 2020-66

Topic: Changes to 1-5 year goal milestones in the Apple Canyon Lake Watershed Based Management Plan

Issue & Analysis: The ACL Watershed Based Management Plan was originally prepared by Mike Malon and other staff members of the Jo Daviess County Soil & Water Conservation District in 2016. As written, the plan calls for the Jo Daviess County SWCD to lead the implementation of the plan. Since that time, reductions in funding and staff reduction have caused JDCSWCD to withdraw from their leadership role. At their June meeting, the Conservation Commission agreed that we were the best entity to monitor and lead implementation of this plan. The Commission agreed there was no need to adjust any of the four goals of the plan or the goal objectives. However, in some cases the goal milestones used to assess progress toward the main goal needed to be modified to reflect current conditions, cut completely, or new objective achievements added. The Commission addressed these in its July and August meetings. The entire Watershed plan was designed to use an adaptive management process: assess, design, implement, monitor, evaluate, adjust and begin again with assess. The Conservation Commission found that seven of the milestones used to measure goal progress needed to be adjusted to provide accurate evaluation measures. We recommend that the ACL Board of Directors approve these changes as written so they may be used in next year's five-year evaluation process. The Conservation Commission has submitted their revised ACL Watershed Based Management Plan following their September 5, 2020 meeting.

Recommendation: To approve the ACL Watershed Based Management Plan as included in the Board packet.

IMPLEMENTATION FRAMEWORK

Goal 1 Checklist: Improve Water Quality
Historic and Current Condition:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Historic watershed conditions contained prairies, wetlands, and savannas prior to European settlement. Water quality in Apple Canyon Lake watershed is generally fair based on collected data. All parameters tested meet recommended standards during base flow conditions. However, total phosphorus and total suspended solids exceed recommended standards following significant storm events just upstream of Apple Canyon Lake; streambank erosion is a major contributor. Apple Canyon Lake is not listed as impaired but shows a negative trend in water quality.
Criteria to Meet Goal Objectives:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Linear feet of restored streambank and lake shoreline. Acres of riparian buffer restored around ACL. Water quality monitoring taking place; chemical water quality standards: <12 mg/L TSS, <0.05 mg/L TP in ACL. Cost sharing program developed for BMPs in the watershed. Implement septic field inspection policy at ACLPOA. Reduced labor and expenses operating hydraulic dredge, weed harvester, and maintaining dredge ponds. IMPLEMENTATION FRAMEWORK

Goal 2 Checklist: Reduce Algal Blooms and Excessive Plant Growth
Historic and Current Condition:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The historic watershed landscape consisted of prairies, savannas, and wetlands prior to European settlement in the 1800s. Historic land use limited nutrient production and encouraged storage and filtration of nutrients. VLMP data indicates a downward trend in water quality and secchi depth clarity. Aquatic plant coverage is heavily treated making nutrients available to algal growth. Harmful algal blooms (HAB) are monitored in Apple Canyon Lake. Only one HAB has been detected, occurring in 2013.
Criteria to Meet Goal Objectives:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Number of new prairies, savannas, wetlands, and retention basins implemented. Number of critical areas treated with riparian buffer. Meeting water quality goals and objectives (Goal 1). Number of years in database monitoring aquatic plant, invertebrate, and algal population. Reduced labor and expenses operating weed harvester. Reduced incidence of harmful algal blooms.

useful for assessing stream quality because fish represent the upper level of the aquatic food chain and therefore reflect conditions in the lower levels of the food chain. Fish population characteristics are dependent on the physical habitat, hydrologic and chemical conditions of the stream, and are considered good indicators of overall stream quality because they reflect stress from both chemical pollution and habitat perturbations. For example, the presence of fish species that are intolerant of pollution are an indicator that water quality is good. The IBI is calculated on a scale of 12 to 60, the higher the score the better the stream quality.

Infiltration: That portion of rainfall or surface runoff that moves downward into the subsurface soil.

Invasive vegetation/plant: Plant species that are not native to an area and tend to out-compete native species and dominate an area (e.g. European buckthorn or garlic mustard).

Loess: A fine-grained, unstratified accumulation of clay and silt deposited by wind.

Macroinvertebrates: Invertebrates that can be seen by the unaided eye (macro). Most benthic invertebrates in flowing water are aquatic insects or the aquatic stage of insects, such as stonefly nymphs, mayfly nymphs, caddisfly larvae, dragonfly nymphs and midge larvae. They also include such things as clams and worms. The presence of benthic macroinvertebrates that are intolerant of pollutants is a good indicator of good water quality.

Macroinvertebrate Biotic Index (MBI): Method used to rate water quality using macroinvertebrate taxa tolerance to organic pollution in streams. The method detects change in biological systems that result from the actions of human society. The MBI is very similar to the IBI except it is based on sampling macroinvertebrates (insects, worms etc.) that live in the stream rather than fish. The MBI scale is from 1 to 10, with 1 being the highest stream quality indicator and 10 being the worst. A MBI less than 5 on the 2004 revised scale indicates a good macroinvertebrate population. As with fish, the presence of pollution-intolerant macroinvertebrate species is an indicator of good water quality. Since macroinvertebrates are less mobile than fish, the MBI is a good index to evaluate upstream/downstream impacts of point source discharges.

Management Measures: Also known as Best Management Practices (BMPs) are non-structural practices such as site planning and design aimed to reduce stormwater runoff and avoid adverse development impacts - or structural practices that are designed to store or treat stormwater runoff to mitigate flood damage and reduce pollution. Some BMPs used in urban areas may include stormwater detention ponds, restored wetlands, vegetative filter strips, porous pavement, silt fences and biotechnical streambank stabilization.

Marsh: An area of soft, wet, low-lying land, characterized by grassy vegetation and often forming a transition zone between water and land.

Meander (stream): A sinuous channel form in flatter river grades formed by the erosion on one side of the channel (pools) and deposition on the other (point bars).

Mitigation: Measures taken to eliminate or minimize damage from development activities, such as construction in wetlands or Regulatory Floodplain filling, by replacement of the resource.

APPENDICES

National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP): Managed by the Mitigation Division within the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), participants in the NFIP adopt and enforce floodplain management ordinances to reduce future flood damage and in exchange are eligible to receive federally funded flood insurance.

National Wetland Inventory (NWI): U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service study that provides information on the characteristics, extent, and status of U.S. wetlands and deep-water habitats and other wildlife habitats.

Native vegetation/plants: Plant species that have historically been found in an area.

Natural community: An assemblage of plants and animals interacting with one another in a particular ecosystem.

Natural divisions: Large land areas that are distinguished from each other by bedrock, glacial history, topography, soils, and distribution of plants and animals.

No-net-loss: A policy for wetland protection to stem the tide of continued wetland losses. The policy has generated requirements for wetland mitigation so that permitted losses due to filling and other alterations are replaced and the net quality wetland acreage remains the same.

Nonpoint source pollution (NPS or NPSP): Refers to pollutants that accumulate in waterbodies from a variety of sources including runoff from the land, impervious surfaces, the drainage system and deposition of air pollutants.

National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES Phase II): Clean Water Act law requiring smaller communities and public entities that own and operate an Municipal Separate Storm Sewer System (MS4) to apply and obtain an NPDES permit for stormwater discharges. Permittees at a minimum must develop, implement, and enforce a stormwater program designed to reduce the discharge of pollutants from the MS4 to the maximum extent practicable. The stormwater management program must include these six minimum control measures:

1. Public education and outreach on stormwater impacts
2. Public involvement/participation
3. Illicit discharge detection and elimination
4. Construction site stormwater runoff control
5. Post-construction stormwater management in new development and redevelopment
6. Pollution prevention/good housekeeping for municipal operations.

Nutrients: Substances needed for the growth of aquatic plants and animals such as phosphorous and nitrogen. The addition of too many nutrients (such as from sewage dumping and over fertilization) will cause problems in the aquatic ecosystem through excess algae growth and other nuisance vegetation.

Open space: Any land that is not developed and is often set aside for conservation or recreation purposes. It can be either protected or unprotected. Protected open space differs from unprotected in that it is permanently preserved by outright ownership by a body chartered to permanently save land, or by a permanent deed restriction such as a conservation easement. Open space is important to a watershed's hydrology, habitat, water quality, and biodiversity.

Outwash: Sand and gravel deposits removed or washed out from a glacier.

Partially open parcel: Parcels that have been developed to some extent, but still offer some opportunities for open space and Best Management Practice (BMP) implementation. They typically include private residences with acreage exceeding the surrounding minimum zoning, partly developed industrial sites, or institutions (churches, schools, etc.) with extensive grounds.

Point source pollution: Refers to discharges from a single source such as an outfall pipe conveying wastewater from an industrial plant or wastewater treatment facility.

Pollutant load: The amount of any pollutant deposited into waterbodies from point source discharges, combined sewer overflows, and/or stormwater runoff.

Pool: A location in an active stream channel usually located on the outside bends of meanders, where the water is deepest and has reduced current velocities.

Prairie: A type of grassland characterized by low annual moisture and rich black soil characteristics.

Preventative measures: Actions that reduce the likelihood that new watershed problems such as flooding or pollution will arise, or that those existing problems will worsen. Preventative techniques generally target new development in the watershed and are geared toward protecting existing resources and preventing degradation.

Rain gage station: Point along a stream where the amount of water flowing in an open channel is measured. The USGS makes most streamflow measurements by current meter. A current meter is an instrument used to measure the velocity of flowing water. By placing a current meter at a point in a stream and counting the number of revolutions of the rotor during a measured interval of time, the velocity of water at that point is determined.

Regulatory floodplain: Regulatory Floodplains may be either riverine or non-riverine depressional areas. Projecting the base flood elevation onto the best available topography delineates floodplain boundaries. A flood prone area is Regulatory Floodplain if it meets any of the following descriptions:

Any riverine area inundated by the base flood where there is at least 640 acres of tributary drainage area.

Any non-riverine area with a storage volume of 0.75 acre-foot or more when inundated by the base flood.

Any area indicated as a Special Flood Hazard Area on the FEMA Flood Insurance Rate Map expected to be inundated by the base flood located using best available topography.

Regulatory floodway: The channel, including on-stream lakes, and that portion of the Regulatory Floodplain adjacent to a stream or channel as designated by the Illinois Department of Natural Resources-Office of Water Resources, which is needed to store and convey the existing and anticipated future 100-year frequency flood discharge with no more than a 0.1 foot increase in stage due to the loss of flood conveyance or storage, and no more than a 10% increase in velocities. Where interpretation is needed to determine the exact location of the Regulatory Floodway boundary, the IDNR-OWR should be contacted for the interpretation.

Remedial measures: Used to solve known watershed problems or to improve current watershed conditions. Remedial measures include retrofitting drainage system infrastructure such as detention basins and storm sewer outfalls to improve water quality, adjust release rates, or reduce erosion.

Remnant: A small fragmented portion of the former dominant vegetation or landscape which once covered the area before being cleared for human land use.

Retention facilities: A facility designed to completely retain a specified amount of stormwater runoff without release except by means of evaporation, infiltration or pumping.

Retrofit: Refers to modification to improve problems with existing stormwater control structures such as detention basins and conveyance systems such as ditches and storm sewers. These structures were originally designed to improve drainage and reduce flood risk, but they can also be retrofitted to improve water quality.

Ridge: A line connecting the highest points along a landscape and separating drainage basins or small-scale drainage systems from one another.

Riffle: Shallow rapids, usually located at the crossover in a meander of the active channel.

Riparian: Referring to the riverside or riverine environment next to the stream channel, e.g., riparian, or streamside, vegetation.

Runoff: The portion of rain or snow that does not percolate into the ground and is discharged into streams by flowing over the ground instead.

Savanna: A type of woodland characterized by open spacing between its trees and by intervening grassland.

Section 319: see U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Section 319.

Sediment: Soil particles that have been transported from their natural location by wind or water action.

Sedimentation: The process that deposits soils, debris and other materials either on other ground surfaces or in bodies of water or watercourses.

Silt: Fine mineral particles intermediate in size between clay and sand.

Stakeholders: Individuals, organizations, or enterprises that have an interest or a share in a project. (see also Watershed Stakeholders).

Stormwater management: A set of actions taken to control stormwater runoff with the objectives of providing controlled surface drainage, flood control and pollutant reduction in runoff.

Stream corridor: The area of land that runs parallel to a stream.

Stream reach: A stream segment having fairly homogenous hydraulic, geomorphic and riparian cover and land use characteristics (such as all ditched agriculture or all natural and wooded). Reaches generally should not exceed 2,000 feet in length.

Streambank stabilization: Techniques used for stabilizing eroding streambanks.

Memo: 2020-69

Topic: 2021 Payment Plan

Issue: With all the unknowns surrounding COVID-19 and the economy, staff has recognized that property owners may need more flexibility paying their dues & fees in 2021. We have created a second payment plan option that will break payments down into smaller, more frequent installments. This will allow payment of the Annual Assessment (Dues) and Owner Amenity Registration Fee(s) to be spread out. All optional fees must be paid in the first installment with either Payment Plan option. The Boat Slip License, Campsite License, and Kayak Locker Rental Agreement require those fees be paid in full by March 1.

Recommendation: To approve the different installment options for the 2021 ACL Payment Plan as included in the Board packet. Staff will begin advertising the 2021 Payment Plans after the Board has adopted the 2021 budgets at their October meeting.

Topic: Amended and Restated Declaration of Covenants and Restrictions and Amended and Restated Bylaws– 1st Reading

Issue & Analysis: The Legal Commission has been reviewing the Amended and Restated Declaration of Covenants and Restrictions and the Amended and Restated Bylaws for almost six years. During this time, the Commission has worked closely with ACL legal counsel, the Architectural and Environmental Control Committee, other commissions, management and Members with these changes.

Some of the key changes being considered are:

- Add and clarify many of the definitions used in not only in the Declaration and Bylaws, but also in many of our other governing documents and rules.
- Add an Energy Policy Statement pertaining mostly to the use of solar energy systems.
- In case of conflicting statements, redefine and confirm which governing documents take precedence over others.
- Update the listing of Reserved Properties.
- Clarify acceptable home occupation, animal and nuisance policy.
- Clarify policies for leasing properties.
- Clarify the status of Owners, Members, Voting Members, Recreational Use Holder, and Spouses for both properties owned by individuals and legal entities.
- Clarify the proper procedures for non-payment of assessments and when liens can be filed against a lot.
- Clarify procedures to notify the Board and Members of Special Board Meetings, Board Meetings for discussing the budget and regular Board Meetings.
- Eliminate the granting of Restricted Lots while maintaining those that have been previously restricted.
- Added Preamble and Recitals sections to Bylaws.
- Clarify other legal issues considered necessary by our lawyers.

Both of these documents have been through a final review by Legal Counsel, Keay and Costello.

ARTICLE II PROPERTY SUBJECT TO THIS DECLARATION, ADDITIONS THERETO, AND MERGERS

Section 1. Existing Properties. The real property which is and shall be held, transferred, sold, conveyed and occupied subject to this Amended Declaration is located in Jo Daviess County, Illinois, and is more particularly described in Exhibit A attached hereto.

Section 2. Other Additions. Upon approval in writing of the Association pursuant to a vote of its Voting Members, the Owner of any property who desires to add it to the scheme of this Amended Declaration and to subject it to the jurisdiction of the Association, may file of record a Supplementary Declaration of Covenants and Restrictions; provided that any such addition shall have the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes of the Voting Members voting in person or by Written Ballot at a meeting duly called for this purpose, written notice of which shall be sent to all Voting Members not less than ten (10) days and not more than thirty (30) days in advance and shall set forth the purpose of the meeting.

Section 3. Reserved Properties. The Association owns various parcels of land which were conveyed to it by the Developer or which were subsequently acquired by the Association, a complete description of which is set forth in Exhibit B attached hereto, which are not subject to the Amended Declaration, and which are defined as Reserved Properties. The Association may, by a vote of at least two-thirds (2/3) of the directors on the Board, acquire additional Reserved Properties when deemed to be in the best interests of the Association, and upon any such acquisition Exhibit B attached hereto will be amended to include such additional Reserved Properties. Any or all of the Reserved Properties may be added to the scheme of the Amended this Declaration upon approval in writing of the Association pursuant to a vote of the Voting Members and by the recording of a Supplementary Declaration of Covenants and Restrictions; provided that any such addition shall have the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes of the Voting Members voting in person or by Written Ballot at a meeting duly called for this purpose, written notice of which shall be sent to all Voting Members not less than ten (10) days and not more than thirty (30) days in advance and shall set forth the purpose of the meeting.

The attempt to add those parcels to the Properties was likely ineffective because the vote of the members of the Association required to add additional property was neither sought nor obtained. Those aforementioned parcels are owned by the Association as Reserved Properties, and they are not subject to the Declaration or to this Amended Declaration.

Section 4. Mergers. In the event of a merger or consolidation of the Association with another association as provided in its Articles of Incorporation, its properties, rights and obligations may, by operation of law, be transferred to another surviving or consolidated association or, alternatively, the properties, rights and obligations of the Association as a surviving corporation pursuant to a merger. The surviving or consolidated association may administer the covenants and restrictions established by this Amended Declaration within ~~the~~The Properties together with the covenants and restrictions established upon any other properties as one scheme. - (ii) If the work is not done to the satisfaction of the AECC, in its sole judgment, then the AECC may levy a fine and, in addition, the Board may seek injunctive relief, and/or enter upon such Owner's Dwelling and Lot to cause such work to be done and the cost thereof shall be a charge payable by the Owner to the Association upon demand in the same manner as unpaid assessments.

Section 3. Willful and Negligent Damage. As an example, if an owner left garbage on his or her Lot and failed to remove it after written notice from the Association, this would permit the Association to go onto the Owner's Lot and have the garbage removed and charge any costs incurred back to the owner without first having to file a lawsuit over this. This section would not, however, permit the Association to remove an item of construction from a home without a court order.
